

I strongly oppose any effort to allow the FBI or any intelligence service from conducting surveillance of domestic Internet traffic.

Privacy and the ability to conduct our daily affairs without the oversight and monitoring of the government is a fundamental freedom of individuals and should not be infringed upon.